The FTC never asks you to pay to file a claim or get a refund. Don't pay anyone who promises you an FTC refund in exchange for a fee. Only scammers say they can get you special access or a guaranteed refund.

If you were a NGL Pro customer who paid for unauthorized charges, click Apply for a Refund or visit nglrefund.com/submitclaim to submit a claim online. All claims will be reviewed before eligibility is determined.

The deadline to file is April 6, 2026.

You must be at least 18 to complete a claim form. If you are not yet 18, a parent or guardian must complete the claim form for you.

About the Settlement

NGL Labs and its co-founders agreed to pay $4.5 million to settle charges by the FTC and the Los Angeles District Attorney's Office. The agencies charged NGL and its co-founders with sending fake messages that appeared to come from real people and tricked users into signing up for paid subscriptions by falsely claiming that doing so would reveal the identity of the senders of messages. But that wasn't true, according to the federal court Complaint.

The Complaint also alleged that many users who paid for NGL Pro thought they were paying a one-time charge, but the company charged a recurring, weekly fee of up to $9.99 without users' knowledge and consent. NGL often ignored users' requests for refunds, according to the Complaint.
